

ALICE I. MONTAGUE

Bio

Alice I. Montague, a native of Denver Colorado was born June 16, 1933. She attended East High School, Arapahoe Community College and the University Of Colorado, Boulder, Colorado. She was employed by Wolfberg Theatres and the Bay Petroleum Company in their accounting departments.

Married in 1953 she was is homemaker and mother of two children.

Relocating from Denver to Germany from 1955-1957 and Dayton Ohio from 1967 to 1970 she returned to Denver in 1971 and has remained in Denver since.

She joined the Denver Art Museum as a volunteer in 1972 and has served as a docent for the past 37 years. She is a member and has held offices in numerous cultural and social organizations including Alianza de las Artes Americanas, Antique Investors, DAM 10's and Las Malinches.

Currently she has 5 grandchildren and 1 great grandchild and continues to be a homemaker and volunteer docent at the Denver Art Museum.