

THE "UNSINKABLE JANE WILSON"

Jane Wilson

Simply put: Jane Wilson loves the JSG's music programs. She hired our current music director in 1986 with the mandate that he never "bore the kids."

23 years later we still have the same Music Director and 35 years into her JSG odyssey, Jane has again agreed to be Board President-- for the third time!

She has a bachelors and masters in business from the University of California, and is an active realtor in the Denver Metro Area working for Wallace Properties.

She has done almost every position with the Guild, including Designer Show House Chair, VP of Music Education, Treasurer... and is known to waitress at Show Houses.

She is married with two grown children and two grandpuppies.
